

FORWARD

U.S., Germany Sign Pact

May 23, 2003

The United States and Germany signed a joint declaration on Monday committing to protect and preserve sites associated with victims of the Holocaust.

The agreement, negotiated by the United States Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad, outlines the commitment of the American and German governments to cultural preservation of, among other sites, cemeteries, houses of worship and other "places of commemoration."